YOUR RIGHTS UNDER THE FEDERAL PRIVACY STANDARD

Although health records about you are KANZA's property, you have certain rights with regard to the information contained therein as follows:

You have the right to obtain a copy of this Notice of Information Practices. The Notice is available to you in paper form and is posted on our website at www.kanzamhgc.org.

You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of health information about you upon written request. This right is not absolute and in certain situations, we can deny access if access might cause harm to the client or another individual. You do not have a right to access information in our records that was generated by an entity other than the KANZA. Psychotherapy notes, separated from the medical record or information that was obtained from someone other than a healthcare provider under a promise of confidentiality, are not covered by this right to access. In other situations, when access to mental health information is denied, KANZA will inform you of the reason for denying access and how to seek a review of that decision. The reviewable grounds for denial include but are not limited to:

- The access is reasonably likely to endanger the life or physical safety of the individual or another person, as determined by a qualified mental health professional.
- The health information makes reference to another person and such information is likely to cause substantial harm to the other person, as determined by a qualified mental health professional.
- The request is made by the individual's designee and providing the information to the designee is likely to cause substantial harm to the individual or another person, as determined by a qualified mental health professional.

For these reviewable grounds, the Chief Executive Officer will review the decision of the provider denying access, and provide the client a written explanation of the reason(s) for denial within 60 days.

You have the right to request a correction or amendment to health information about you. We do not have to grant the request if the record was not created by KANZA. In such instances, you must seek correction or amendment from the agency creating the record. If they correct or amend the information, we will file the change in our record. We do not have to grant the request if the record is accurate and complete, or if the record is not available to you as described immediately above. If your request for correction or amendment is denied, KANZA will inform you of the reason for denying access. If the request for correction or amendment to the record is granted, the change will be made to our record, and the correction/amendment distributed to those you identify to us as needing the information. When appropriate, the correction or amendment may be distributed to other entities, as defined in the Uses and Disclosures section of this Notice.

You have the right to request restriction on uses and disclosures of health information about you for treatment, payment, and health care operations, and communications by alternate means. "Health care operations" consist of activities that are necessary to carry out the operations of KANZA, such as quality assurance and peer review. The right to request restriction does not extend to uses or disclosures permitted or required under 164.502(a)(2)(i) (disclosures to you), 164.510(a) (for facility directories, but note that you have the right to object to such uses), or 164.512 (uses and disclosures not requiring a consent or an authorization). The latter uses and disclosures include, for example, those required by law like mandatory reporting of child and adult abuse, and in those cases, you do not have a right to request restriction. The Consent to use and disclose individually identifiable health information form includes an option to request restriction. We do not, however, have to agree to the restriction. If the restriction is granted, we will adhere to it unless you request otherwise or we give you advance notice. You may also ask us to communicate with you by alternate means and, if the method of communication is reasonable, we must grant the alternate communication request. Refer to the consent form.

You have the right to obtain an accounting of "non-routine" uses and disclosures, other than those for treatment, payment, and health care operations. However, we do not need to provide an accounting of uses and disclosures made prior to 4-14-2003 and for:

- The facility directory, or to persons involved in the individual's care as provided in 164.510 (uses and disclosures requiring an opportunity for the individual to agree or object, including notification to family members, personal representatives, or others responsible for the care of the individual).
- National security or intelligence purposes under 164.512(k)(2) (disclosures not requiring consent, authorization, or an opportunity to object, see chapter 16).
- Those made to correctional institutions or law enforcement officials under 164.512(k)(5) (disclosures not requiring consent, authorization, or an opportunity to object).

After receipt of a valid, written request for non-routine accounting, we will provide the accounting within 60 days. The accounting will include the date of each disclosure, the name and address of the entity who received the health information, a brief description of the information disclosed, and a brief statement of the purpose of the disclosure that informs you of the basis for the disclosure or, in lieu of such statement, a copy of your written authorization, or a copy of a written request for disclosure.

You have the right to revoke your consent or authorization to use or disclose health information, except to the extent that we have already taken action in reliance on the consent or authorization.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO CHANGE OUR INFORMATION PRACTICES, AND TO MAKE THE NEW PROVISIONS EFFECTIVE FOR ALL INDIVIDUALLY IDENTIFIABLE HEALTH INFORMATION WE MAINTAIN. SHOULD WE CHANGE OUR INFORMATION PRACTICES, YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO REQUEST A COPY OF THE NEW NOTICE.
